

The Waunakee Public Library is coordinating with the Waunakee Innovation Center at the high school for our fourth annual STEM Day event. The event aims to show kids and families that the STEM fields are applicable in daily life, are interesting and fun, and to encourage student interest in these vital fields.

The event will take place on Saturday, April 27 from 10 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. at the high school. We are looking for volunteers that would be willing to help participants at the various stations and activities, as well as students to help navigate participants from the entryway to the innovation center and commons area.

To facilitate signup, we will be having volunteers sign up online via this Signup Genius link: <https://www.signupgenius.com/go/60b084ca9ab2ca5ff2-stem1>

Please email Cindy at cjensen@waupl.org or Courtney at ccosgriff@waupl.org with any questions regarding the event.
